In Italy tombola is a very common family game played at Christmas, similar to bingo. In Italy at Christmas Eve playing tombola is a must, with all the relatives united around grandparents and small children shouting when they win a prize!

How to Play

When the number is called, they are closed by beans ("fagioli") or by pieces of orange peel, that you to eat while playing. Fix a price for each card (ex. 1 dollar). The players buy the cards, and one of the players buys the "cartellone".

The money from the sale of the cards is divided into five prizes, from lowest to highest, with tombola being the jackpot:

- the "ambo", two numbers on the same row
- the "terno", three numbers on the same row
- the "quaterna", four numbers on the same row
- the "cinquina", five numbers on the same row
- the "tombola", all numbers on the card

Then the one who has the cartellone takes the numbers out of the sack, one at a time, calling them loudly, and placing them on their box in the cartellone, and leaving time to the players to mark the number on their card.

For more color in the game, each number has also a nickname, either local or from the "Smorfia"; some common expressions are shown below:

- |              |                        |
|--------------|------------------------|
| 1 Il maschio | 6 Lo specchio          |
| 2 L'amore    | 7 Le corna             |
| 3 Il malanno | 8 Il petto delle donne |
| 4 Il piacere | 9 La rabbia            |
| 5 La mano    | 10 Il cannone          |
